Enterprise file sharing and CRM, not just for the enterprise anymore...

Over 225,000 business and 99% of the Fortune 500 have already discovered how Box delivers a secure, scalable platform for sharing and collaborating around your files.

Enterprise file sync and sharing solutions enable productivity and collaboration for mobile workers using multiple devices. Organizations must deploy these services to secure enterprise information assets.

The FayeBSG SugarCRM Box Integration Application was designed to take file sharing and storage one step further, by conveniently syncing the cutting-edge cloud collaboration functionality of Box with the straightforward and powerful relationship management of SugarCRM.

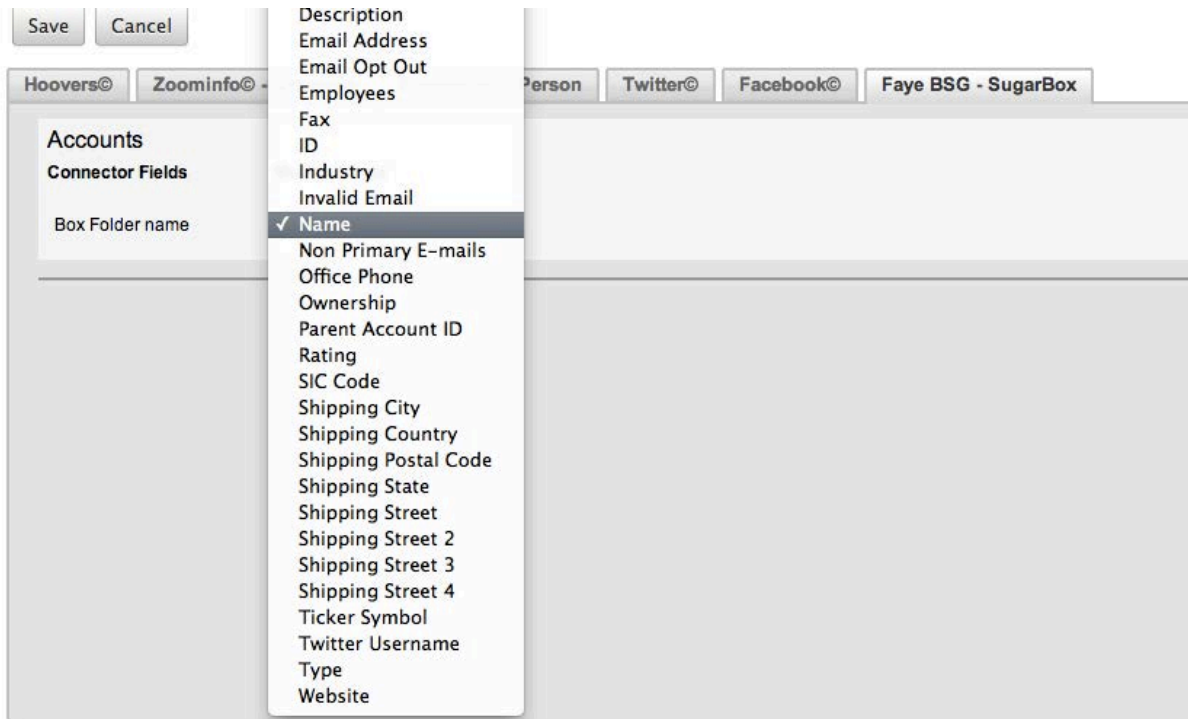

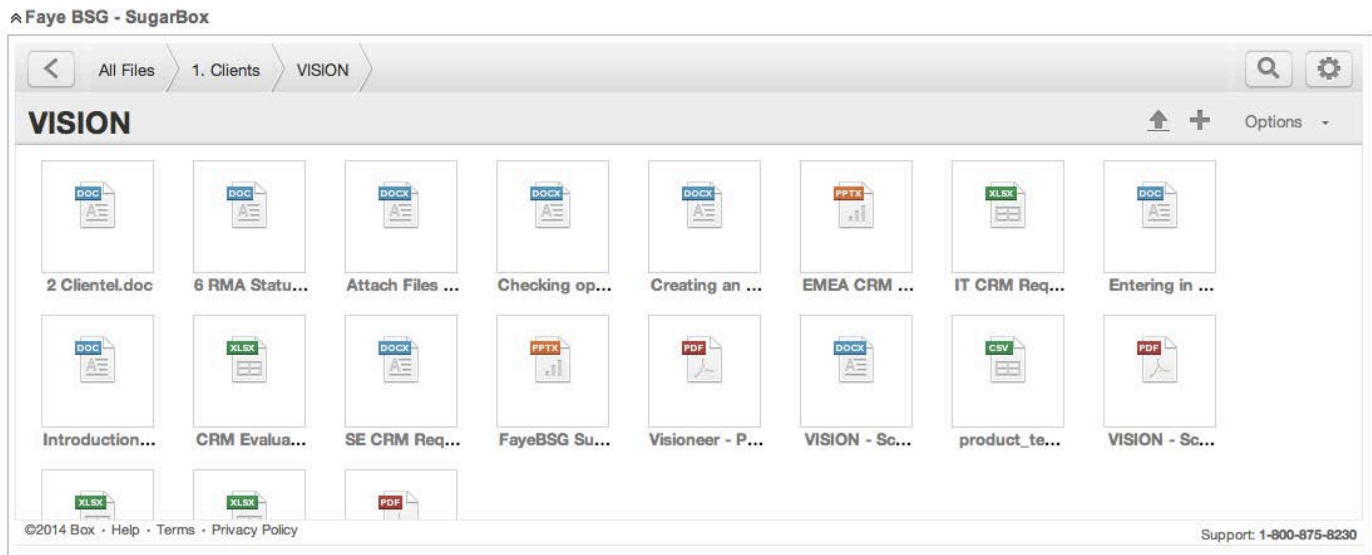

Sugar is a CRM system that was designed for every individual who engages with customers: sellers, marketers, customer support agents, receptionists, and executives. Every single one of these individuals saves, opens and closes files, around the clock. The Sugar Box integration enhances the market demand for online collaboration services. As businesses grapple with the need to become more agile, responsive and mobile, integrations like this make it easier for businesses to shift from slow-moving, outdated technologies to more flexible, collaborative and most importantly, trackable systems.
